Tom McNeal Answers W. A. White on Text Book Matter.

William Allen White's criticism of the plan for hasty action in letting contracts for texts for school readers, is not received in a cordial spirit by T. A. McNeal, a member of the state school text book commission. McNeal insists Kansas authors can write. He insists that ample time will be allowed for the preparation of texts. Then he adds that White recently urged a book of Kansas classics for use in the public schools

TODAY'S MARKET REPORT.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Wheat prices underwent a setback today owing to unresponsive cables, larger receipts northwest and a forecast of favorable weather. The comparative weakness of quotations at Liverpool a circumstance which seemed especially discouraging to the bulls, was ascribed to increased receipts and to hope that arrivals hereafter would be on a more liberal scale. After opening % to %c lower the market here rallied a little but then suffered a decided break.

Initial quotations were $1.08 to $1.08½ for Dec. and $1.00 to $1.09% for May.

Subsequently, predictions of big receipts in the northwest during the remainder of the week led to further declines. The close was unsettled 2q 2% to 2% @2% c net lower, with Dec. at $1.00½@% and May at $1.07%@½.

Corn gave way with wheat. Pit traders were generally on the selling side. Prices opened ¼ to ½e lower and were followed by a moderate additional down turn. Traders in oats took their cue from the action of other grain. Some of the selling was of a stop-loss character. Higher prices for hogs tended to lift provisions, one of the feature was the buying of 1,000

Then he urges that the commission cannot delay its work in view of the fact that contracts for readers in the Kansas schools expire in May, 1917.

"No member of the commission supposed for a moment that on November 15, we would make the contracts for a series of readers," said McNeal. "It is expected that after the opening of the bids the offerings will be carefully considered and the best available may then be selected or all of the offerings may be rejected."

VOTES IN THE BALANCE

Women, Confident in New Jersey, Are Laughed at by Opponents.

Newark, Oct. 18.—The big fight on woman suffrage today is only 24 hours away. At 6 o'clock tomorrow morning the polls in New Jersey will be opened to determine whether women shall be given the right to vote. Two weeks from tomorrow the three other eastern states of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts like-wise will decide whether they will Join their twelve western sister states in giving women the ballot.

President Wilson's declaration for suffrage, reinforced by a thorough and vigorous campaign waged by organizations and workers, is expected by suffrage leaders to carry the day for suffrage in his home state of New Jersey. Their victory is sure and by a good margin, they say.

On the other hand, those opposed to suffrage are inclined to laugh at these claims, and assert that the proposed constitutional amendment to enfran-chise women will be bured under an avalanche of votes.
